

Targeted areas of threat

This map shows Grant Towers D residence hall, where a threat was scrawled onto the wall of a women's restroom sometime Saturday night or early Sunday. University officials canceled final exams Monday but are resuming normal operation today, saying investigators have several leads showing that the message does not represent an imminent threat.

Source: Northern Illinois University

MARGO MORGAN | ROCKFORD REGISTER STAR